Pantheon Chemical is not your average chemical manufacturer: The company manufactures high performance, non-hazardous, specialty chemicals for the manufacturing, industrial coatings and weaponry industries—and places a high premium on environmental responsibility. CEO Laura Roberts is driving Pantheon to become the answer for companies seeking more responsible use of hazardous substances. With a 325% gross local revenue increase from 2001 to 2002, the company is gearing up to be a player in the $85 billion U.S. industrial chemical market.
